About

Asher has been focused on his position with year-round training since he was 7 years old – a true pocket quarterback with a strong IQ for the game. It's his passion to be part of the team and put in the hard work to do his part toward a successful season.

Asher trains year-round, including position work with QB Precision under Jonathon Banks, and has attended the Manning Passing Academy and college camps, including SBE camp. Strengths: strong passer, game IQ, hard to tackle. Ole Miss is a dream, but he's open to any program willing to give him a chance.

“Commitment to your team and constant effort is what can help you achieve your goals in athletics and in life.”
